- B. Debt basis is restored first, up to the amount previously reduced
- C. Both are restored proportionately to their earlier reductions
- D. Neither is restored once reduced in an earlier taxable year

100. Which item increases a partner's outside basis despite never being taxed?

- A. A cash distribution received during the taxable year in question
- B. A decrease in the partner's share of partnership liabilities
- C. The partner's distributive share of tax-exempt income for the year
- D. The partner's share of nondeductible, noncapital expenses

Practice Exam 16: Answer Key and Explanations

1. A — Adjustments run in strict order: increases first, then distributions, then losses. Basis rises to eighty-nine thousand dollars after the income allocation and liability increase, falls to sixty-four thousand after the distribution, and falls again to fifty thousand after the loss. Ample basis remains at every stage, so the entire loss is deductible.

2. C — Gain is recognized in an amount equal to the lesser of realized gain or boot received. Realized gain is forty-two thousand dollars and boot is twelve thousand, so twelve thousand is recognized. Devan's stock basis becomes forty-eight thousand dollars: the property basis, less the boot received, plus the gain recognized.

3. B — Seventy-five thousand dollars is a dividend to the extent of combined earnings and profits. The next twenty thousand is a tax-free return of capital reducing stock basis to zero. The remaining forty-five thousand dollars is capital gain from a deemed sale of stock. Only the second tier reduces basis at all.

4. D — Adjusted basis is fifty-two thousand dollars, producing a total gain of one hundred thirteen thousand. Section 1245 recaptures all prior depreciation as ordinary income first, so eighty-eight thousand is ordinary. Only the residual twenty-five thousand receives Section 1231 treatment. Recapture is full rather than partial for depreciable personal property. Real property follows the gentler Section 1250 rule instead.

5. D — The insolvency exclusion is capped by the amount of insolvency rather than by the amount forgiven. Alton was insolvent by fifty-five thousand dollars, so that amount is excluded and the remaining thirty-five thousand is fully taxable. The discharge restored his solvency, and the portion doing so produces income. Insolvency is measured immediately before the discharge occurs.

6. B — Amounts at risk include cash contributed and borrowed amounts carrying personal liability, but exclude nonrecourse financing. Her basis is one hundred seventy-five thousand dollars while only sixty-five thousand is at risk. Qualified nonrecourse financing secured by real property is the narrow exception, and it is unavailable to equipment leasing. The gap between basis and at-risk defeats many loss claims.

7. A — Taxable income exceeds the upper limit, so the wage and property limitation applies in full. Fifty percent of wages is sixty thousand dollars, and twenty-five percent of wages plus a property component is thirty thousand. The greater controls, capping the tentative one hundred four thousand dollar deduction at sixty thousand.

8. C — Personal use of twenty days exceeds fourteen, making the property a residence. The eighty percent rental ratio allocates twelve thousand of interest and taxes, absorbing income to six thousand, then four thousand of operating expenses leaving two thousand. Of eight thousand allocated depreciation only two thousand is deductible, carrying six thousand forward.

9. D — A domestic eligible entity with two or more members defaults to partnership classification where no election is filed. Disregarded treatment reaches only single-member domestic entities. A state-law corporation is a per se corporation with no election available. A foreign entity with universal limited liability defaults to corporate treatment instead. A foreign entity with universal limited liability defaults to corporate status.

10. B — A new number is required only where a genuinely new entity comes into existence. A sole proprietor taking on a partner creates a partnership, which is a different taxpayer entirely. An S election changes only how an existing corporation is taxed. Membership changes, name changes, and relocations all leave the same entity in place.

11. A — The hierarchy runs majority interest year first, then the common year of all principal partners owning five percent or more, and only then the least aggregate deferral computation. Each step is reached solely where the preceding one produces no answer. The arithmetic therefore comes last rather than first in the sequence.

12. D — Services are not property, so the nonrecognition provision does not shelter them. A capital interest received for services is compensation, taxable at the fair market value of the interest received, which then becomes the partner's basis. A profits interest is generally not taxable on receipt under published guidance. A profits interest is treated far more favourably on receipt.

13. C — A nonrecourse liability, for which no partner bears economic risk of loss, is generally allocated according to profit shares. A recourse liability goes instead to whoever actually bears that risk, ordinarily the general partners. This explains why a limited partner's basis is typically supported by nonrecourse rather than recourse debt.

14. B — Gain arises only where money distributed exceeds outside basis. Property other than money simply absorbs basis rather than requiring it. Marketable securities are generally treated as money for this rule, so distributing publicly traded stock can produce gain where distributing land or equipment cannot at all. Marketable securities are generally treated as money for this purpose.

15. C — The definition of unrealized receivables reaches beyond conventional receivables to capture depreciation recapture potential in depreciable property. A partnership holding heavily depreciated equipment therefore carries hot assets. The portion of gain attributable to them becomes ordinary income, with only the residual receiving capital gain treatment. Even a partnership without receivables may carry hot assets.

16. A — Termination now occurs only where no part of any business, financial operation, or venture continues to be carried on by any partner in a partnership. Technical termination on a fifty percent transfer has been repealed entirely. Ownership changes therefore no longer close the tax year or restart depreciation schedules. A two-partner buyout is the common terminating fact pattern.

17. C — Electing out requires both that the partnership furnish one hundred or fewer Schedules K-1 and that every partner be an eligible type. Trusts, partnerships, disregarded entities, and nominees are all ineligible. A single ineligible partner defeats the election however small the partnership happens to be. The partnership must also notify each partner within thirty days.

18. B — Control requires at least eighty percent of the total combined voting power of all classes entitled to vote, and eighty percent of the total number of shares of each other class. Both prongs must hold at once. The second is measured by share count rather than value, and failing either defeats the exchange.

19. A — Tax-exempt interest is cash genuinely received and increases earnings and profits despite never entering taxable income. Life insurance proceeds and the dividends received deduction operate the same way. Federal income taxes, fines, and life insurance premiums are all real outlays reducing the capacity to distribute. The measure gauges economic capacity rather than taxable income.

20. D — Eligible shareholders are limited to individuals who are citizens or resident aliens, estates, certain qualifying trusts, and some exempt organizations. Partnerships and corporations may never hold shares. A single ineligible shareholder terminates the election on the very day the disqualifying transfer occurs rather than at year end. Eligibility is continuous rather than tested once at election.

21. D — Debt basis arises only from a direct loan creating genuine indebtedness running from the corporation to that shareholder. An actual economic outlay is required. A guarantee produces nothing until it is called and the shareholder actually pays. Pledging collateral and corporate third-party borrowing are likewise insufficient. Corporate third-party borrowing never creates shareholder basis.

22. A — Tax-exempt income does not increase the account and its related expenses do not reduce it, though both affect stock basis. Ordinary income, separately stated income, and recognized gains all increase the balance. Distributions reduce it only as far as zero, while losses may drive it negative in a poor year.

23. B — The tax reaches only appreciation economically present at conversion from C to S status, disposed of within a five-year recognition period beginning on the first day of the first S year. A corporation that has always been an S corporation faces no exposure whatever its assets have appreciated. Only post-conversion appreciation escapes the corporate layer.

24. C — Tax shelters may never use the cash method whatever their size or receipts. Personal service corporations, farming corporations meeting the applicable conditions, and service businesses without inventories may all use it. The gross receipts test otherwise governs whether the accrual method becomes mandatory for a taxpayer. That threshold also governs inventory accounting and capitalization.

25. D — Merchandise removed for personal use must be subtracted from purchases rather than deducted as a business expense. Treating it as an expense overstates cost of goods sold and understates gross profit by that amount. Freight is added into inventoriable cost, and trade discounts reduce the invoice price directly. The withdrawal is a personal item rather than a business cost.

26. A — Storage and warehousing of goods before sale is an indirect cost requiring capitalization. Purchasing, handling, quality control, production depreciation, and allocable overhead are treated the same way. Selling, advertising, distribution to customers, and research and experimentation all remain currently deductible period costs instead. The dividing line is whether goods await a buyer or move toward one.

27. B — A purchase price reduction agreed between the original seller and a solvent buyer not in bankruptcy is treated as an adjustment to basis rather than income. Debt cancelled as a gift produces none either. Forgiveness of an amount that would have been deductible if paid likewise produces nothing at all.

28. D — The prescribed order begins with net operating losses, then general business credit carryovers, the minimum tax credit, capital loss carryovers, basis of property, passive activity carryovers, and finally foreign tax credits. The reduction equals the amount excluded rather than forgiven. Depreciable basis may be elected first instead. Both the exclusion and reduction are reported on a prescribed form.

29. C — In a C corporation the danger runs toward compensation that is too high. Excessive amounts paid to a shareholder-employee are recharacterized as dividends, which the corporation cannot deduct while the recipient remains fully taxable. Double taxation therefore falls on precisely the disallowed portion of the payment. The S corporation risk reverses entirely toward understated wages.

30. A — A child under eighteen employed by a parent's sole proprietorship, or by a partnership in which every partner is a parent, is exempt from Social Security and Medicare tax. That child stays exempt from unemployment tax until twenty-one. Spouses and parents remain subject to Social Security, and incorporating destroys every exemption.

31. B — Where a domestic trip is primarily personal, transportation to and from the destination is entirely nondeductible. Expenses at the destination directly attributable to business nevertheless remain deductible. Where the trip is primarily for business instead, transportation becomes fully deductible even though personal time is taken. Foreign travel follows separate allocation rules with exceptions.

32. C — Entertainment produces no deduction at all regardless of business purpose, which captures tickets, club dues, and recreational outings. Business meals remain fifty percent deductible where the taxpayer or an employee is present. Food at an entertainment event qualifies only where separately stated on the invoice. Meals included in wages remain fully deductible by contrast.

33. C — An accountable plan requires a business connection, substantiation within a reasonable period, and return of any excess advance. Allowing employees to keep unspent advances defeats the third condition. Failure of any single condition converts the arrangement for every participant, and employee business deductions are suspended. All payments then become taxable wages without any offset.

34. A — Residential rental property carries a twenty-seven and a half year period while nonresidential real property runs thirty-nine years. Both are recovered straight line under the mid-month convention regardless of placement date. Land improvements run fifteen years, as does qualified improvement property, which is additionally Section 179 eligible. Land is never depreciable and must be separated on acquisition.

35. B — Section 1031 now applies exclusively to real property held for productive use in a trade or business or for investment. Real property is broadly like kind to other real property. Equipment, vehicles, livestock, and partnership interests are excluded in every circumstance under current law without any exception. Material describing equipment trade-ins reflects repealed law.

36. D — Guaranteed payments are excluded on the same reasoning that excludes S corporation reasonable compensation, both being payments for services rather than a share of profits. Capital gains, dividends, investment interest, foreign income, and employee service income are likewise outside the definition entirely. Ordinary domestic business income remains inside the definition.

37. C — Engineering and architecture are conspicuously absent from the statutory list of specified service trades or businesses. Both therefore retain the deduction at any income level, subject only to the wage and property limitations. Consulting, accounting, and brokerage all appear on the list and lose it above the threshold. The absence is notable given their presence in similar provisions.

38. D — Losses arising after 2017 carry forward indefinitely with no carryback, except two years for qualifying farming losses. The deduction is capped at eighty percent of taxable income computed without the loss and without the qualified business income deduction. Pre-2018 losses are used first and carry no percentage limitation. A large carryforward cannot eliminate a year's liability entirely.

39. A — Federal income tax reduces book income and is never deductible for tax, so the difference is permanent and changes the effective rate borne. Bad debt allowances, accelerated depreciation, and warranty reserves all reverse in later periods. Those temporary differences affect only when tax is paid. Permanent differences change the effective rate the corporation bears.

40. B — A positive adjustment increasing income spreads ratably over four years beginning with the year of change. A negative adjustment decreasing income is taken entirely in that single year instead. Candidates frequently apply the four-year spread symmetrically, which is wrong. The asymmetry encourages voluntary correction. Voluntary correction also brings audit protection for earlier years.

41. C — Relief requires reasonable basis, substantive consistency, and reporting consistency, all holding simultaneously. Failure to file information returns defeats the claim outright however reasonable the original basis was. Industry practice, a prior examination, and judicial precedent are each acceptable grounds for the reasonable basis element. The reporting condition defeats most claims in actual practice.

42. B — The penalty reaches any responsible person, meaning anyone with the authority and duty to direct payment. It can reach officers, bookkeepers, and occasionally outside advisors. Wilfulness requires only knowledge that taxes were unpaid plus a decision to pay other creditors. The liability survives dissolution and bankruptcy. No intent to defraud is required for the penalty to apply.

43. A — Basis records must survive as long as the asset does, and then through the limitations period for the year of disposition. For real property that can mean several decades. A taxpayer unable to substantiate basis on sale faces gain computed from a basis of zero entirely. General records run three years and employment tax records four.

44. D — A partner's share of partnership liabilities increases outside basis whoever the lender happens to be, supporting early loss deductions in a leveraged venture. An S corporation shareholder gains basis only from a direct loan. C corporation losses trap at the entity level and never reach shareholders at all. That contrast drives many practical entity selection decisions.

45. D — Recapture income is recognized in full in the year of sale even where the seller receives little or no cash. Only the gain remaining after recapture is spread across the installment payments. A seller of heavily depreciated equipment can owe substantial tax before collecting meaningful proceeds at all. The timing mismatch is a recurring installment sale planning trap.

46. B — Status is determined by reference to the preceding calendar year, averaging full-time employees together with full-time equivalents. Full-time means thirty hours weekly or one hundred thirty monthly. Equivalents are part-time hours divided by one hundred twenty. Part-time employees establish status but are never owed coverage. Part-time employees never trigger a shared responsibility payment.

47. C — A retained power to revoke is itself a triggering power, so a revocable living trust is a grantor trust by definition. Its income, deductions, and credits are reported directly by the grantor. The trust is disregarded entirely, becoming a separate taxable entity only upon the grantor's death. Its income and deductions are reported directly by the grantor.

48. A — Capital gains allocable to corpus are subtracted because they belong to the remainder beneficiary rather than the income beneficiary. The distribution deduction and the personal exemption are added back. Tax-exempt income net of allocable expenses is then added, producing a figure approximating distributable income. The result approximates income economically available for distribution.

49. D — First-tier distributions are amounts of income required to be distributed currently, whether or not actually paid. They absorb distributable net income before any second-tier discretionary amount is taxed. A trustee's failure to make the required payment does not defer the beneficiary's tax on it. Second-tier beneficiaries share only whatever amount then remains.

50. C — An estate receives six hundred dollars, a simple trust required to distribute all income currently receives three hundred, and a complex trust receives one hundred. These amounts are fixed by statute rather than indexed. That makes them among the few figures safely memorized regardless of year. These amounts are fixed by statute rather than indexed for inflation.

51. A — The operational test examines actual activities, requiring operation primarily for exempt purposes. The separate organizational test examines the governing document, which must limit purposes and permanently dedicate assets on dissolution. The document must also avoid empowering substantial non-exempt activities. Both tests must be satisfied independently before exemption is recognized. Neither test alone suffices to establish exempt status.

52. B — Private inurement is prohibited absolutely, with no threshold and no substantiality test applied. Any part of net earnings benefiting an insider defeats exemption outright. Lobbying is permitted provided it is not a substantial part of activities. Unrelated business activity produces tax rather than revocation unless it becomes the primary purpose.

53. B — Debt-financed income is pulled into unrelated business taxable income in proportion to the outstanding acquisition indebtedness. This applies even where the income would otherwise be excluded as passive. Rents attributable to personal property or measured by tenant profits likewise lose the exclusion. A mortgage is therefore the decisive fact. A mortgage on investment property is therefore decisive.

54. A — The savings incentive match plan must generally be established by October first for the year it is to be effective, and that deadline carries no extension. A simplified employee pension may instead be established and funded as late as the extended return due date. That makes the pension the only post-year-end option.

55. C — Cattle and horses held for draft, breeding, dairy, or sporting purposes require twenty-four months of holding. Other livestock including hogs, sheep, and goats require only twelve months. Poultry is excluded from the provision by statute entirely, whatever the purpose. Animals held primarily for sale remain ordinary income property regardless. Animals held primarily for sale remain ordinary income property.

56. D — Prepaid farm supplies are limited to fifty percent of other deductible farm expenses for the year. Exceptions apply for farmers meeting a substantial-business test or where unusual circumstances caused the excess. Soil and water conservation expenditures face a separate twenty-five percent of gross farm income limit with indefinite carryforward. That separate limit carries an indefinite carryforward.

57. A — An activity where the average period of customer use is seven days or less is not a rental activity at all. The same applies where use averages thirty days or less with significant personal services. Such activities are tested under ordinary material participation standards. A materially participating short-term lodging operator may therefore deduct losses.

58. C — Active participation is a materially lower standard than material participation. It requires only bona fide involvement in management decisions such as approving tenants and authorizing repairs. It survives the use of a management company handling daily operations. The taxpayer must additionally own at least ten percent of the activity claimed.

59. B — The ordering places interest and taxes first, operating expenses second, and depreciation last of all. Depreciation is therefore always the item disallowed where rental income runs out. That sequencing favours the taxpayer, since depreciation reduces basis only to the extent actually deducted. The disallowed amount carries forward. The disallowed amount carries forward rather than being lost.

60. D — Expenses the tenant pays on the landlord's behalf are rental income when received. So are rents, advance rent, lease cancellation payments, and the value of property or services accepted instead of cash. A refundable deposit is not income until applied to unpaid rent or retained for damage. Lease cancellation payments are likewise income when received.

61. B — Release requires disposing of the entire interest in the activity in a fully taxable transaction to an unrelated party. The suspended losses then become deductible against non-passive income as well. A gift, a partial disposition, or a transfer to a related party or controlled entity triggers no release at all.

62. D — A partnership subject to the centralized regime cannot amend and must file an administrative adjustment request instead. Adjustments then reach partners through statements rather than corrected Schedules K-1. An S corporation may file an amended return in the ordinary way, as may a partnership validly electing out. Electing out demands both numerical and eligibility conditions.

63. C — The cap is the sum of business interest income, thirty percent of adjusted taxable income, and floor plan financing interest. Disallowed amounts carry forward indefinitely. A taxpayer meeting the gross receipts test governing accrual accounting and capitalization is exempt entirely, which removes it from most small business returns. Floor plan financing interest is added into the same cap.

64. A — The owner's own contribution is an adjustment to income rather than a business schedule expense. Deducting it on the business schedule would reduce net earnings a second time and understate self-employment tax. Contributions made for employees are properly a business expense. One plan therefore produces deductions in two places. Contributions for employees are properly a business expense.

65. C — Eligibility requires fewer than twenty-five full-time equivalent employees and average annual wages below an adjusted ceiling. The employer must pay at least half the premium cost under a qualifying arrangement. Enrolment must be through the small business marketplace. The credit runs for only two consecutive years and phases out. The credit phases out as headcount or average wages climb.

66. D — The hurdles operate in a fixed sequence, and each is tested against the amount that survived the previous one. Basis comes first, then at-risk, then passive activity, then the excess business loss cap. A loss stopped at any hurdle never reaches the next. The final excess becomes a loss carryforward.

67. A — Where capital is a material income-producing factor, a family member owning a genuine capital interest is recognized even if acquired by gift. The interest must be real, with the donee holding the actual rights of ownership. Nominal title while the donor retains control does not suffice. Where capital is immaterial, services are required.

68. B — A purchase between family members is treated as a gift for these rules regardless of what was actually paid. A parent selling an interest to a child at full market value therefore remains inside the family partnership regime. Candidates commonly assume a genuine purchase breaks the analysis, and it does not.

69. C — Private foundations face excise taxes on net investment income, self-dealing with disqualified persons, failure to distribute a minimum amount, excess business holdings, jeopardizing investments, and taxable expenditures. Public charities face none of these additional taxes. Both categories nevertheless remain subject to the unrelated business income tax. Both categories bear the unrelated business income tax alike.

70. D — Three elements must all be present: a trade or business, regularly carried on, and not substantially related to the exempt purpose other than through producing funds. A single annual fundraising event is not regularly carried on and escapes the tax. Producing funds alone never establishes substantial relation. Producing funds alone never establishes substantial relation.

71. A — Disqualified persons include plan fiduciaries, the employer, employee organizations, owners of half or more of the employer, and members of their families. Ordinary participants, named beneficiaries, and unrelated vendors are excluded. The prohibition reaches sales, leasing, lending, furnishing services, and fiduciary self-dealing alike. Family members of those persons are likewise disqualified persons.

72. A — Weather-related sales of draft, breeding, and dairy animals may be treated as involuntary conversions with a four-year replacement period. That period is extended further by published notice where drought persists regionally. Livestock held for sale instead qualifies for a one-year deferral. Purpose of holding determines which relief applies. Purpose of holding determines which relief actually applies.

73. B — Averaging is available only to individuals, including partners and S corporation shareholders reporting farm income from those entities. C corporations may never elect it whatever their activity.

Base year income serves only as a computational reference, so earlier returns are unaffected. The election may be made on an amended return.

74. D — Both conditions must hold in the same taxable year. More than half of all personal services performed in any trade or business must be in real property trades or businesses in which the taxpayer materially participates. More than seven hundred fifty hours must be devoted to those businesses. Licensure is irrelevant.

75. B — Exceeding the greater of fourteen days or ten percent of the days rented at fair value makes the property a residence. Deductions are then limited to rental income with no loss permitted, and disallowed amounts carry forward. Use of exactly fourteen days does not exceed the threshold and leaves it outside.

76. C — The Service allocates using total days of use during the year. Some court decisions have instead permitted allocation across all days in the year, which leaves a larger share available as itemized deductions and produces a larger rental loss. Examination answers follow the Service method unless directed otherwise. The two methods produce materially different rental loss figures.

77. B — Acquired intangibles are amortized ratably over fifteen years beginning with the month of acquisition. Actual or contractual life is disregarded entirely, so a three-year covenant not to compete is still recovered over fifteen. No loss is recognized on disposing of one where others from the same acquisition are retained. The disallowed loss attaches to the retained intangibles' basis.

78. C — Income and deductions must be computed separately for each unrelated trade or business. A loss from one activity therefore cannot offset income from another. Losses are trapped within their own activity and carried forward against that activity's future income. This prevents sheltering profitable operations behind unprofitable ones. Losses carry forward within their own separate activity silo.

79. A — Qualified property is measured at unadjusted basis immediately after acquisition, meaning original cost without reduction for depreciation. It counts only where still held and within its depreciable period at year end. The limb adds twenty-five percent of wages to a percentage of that figure. The larger limb controls. The taxpayer claims whichever of the two limbs produces more.

80. D — Nondeductible penalties reduced book income and are never deductible for tax, so they are added back. Excess tax depreciation is a deduction taken for tax but not recorded on the books and is subtracted. Tax-exempt interest and life insurance proceeds are both nontaxable book income and subtracted too. Both categories move in opposite directions on the schedule.

81. D — First-tier distributions are amounts of income the instrument requires to be distributed currently, whether or not actually paid. They absorb distributable net income before any second-tier discretionary amount is taxed. A beneficiary entitled to mandatory income is taxed even where the trustee failed to make the payment. Second-tier beneficiaries share only whatever then remains.

82. C — The trust filing thresholds are disjunctive rather than cumulative. A return is required where the trust has any taxable income at all, or gross income of six hundred dollars or more, or any nonresident alien beneficiary. Meeting a single condition triggers the obligation. Estates apply only the gross income threshold.

83. A — Costs paid in connection with administering the entity that would not have been incurred if the property were not held in trust survived the suspension. Fiduciary fees, probate costs, and return preparation fees for the entity all qualify. Ordinary investment advisory and custodial fees fall outside the carve-out. Probate costs and preparation fees also fall inside the carve-out.

84. B — The limitation is the last of four hurdles, applied after basis, at-risk, and passive activity have each been tested. The disallowed excess is not lost to the taxpayer at all. It becomes a net operating loss carryforward to the following year, subject there to the eighty percent limitation. A loss stopped early never reaches the later hurdles.

85. D — Three consecutive years of non-filing revokes exemption automatically by operation of law. No notice is required, and revocation takes effect from the third year's due date. Reinstatement requires a fresh application and fee. Retroactive reinstatement additionally demands reasonable cause and all delinquent returns. The rule catches the smallest organizations most often of all.

86. C — The entire account ceases to be an individual retirement arrangement as of the first day of the year. That produces a deemed distribution of the whole balance rather than only the amount involved. This is dramatically harsher than the excise tax applying to a qualified plan. Prompt correction does not cure it.

87. A — Employer contributions must vest under a three-year cliff schedule or a six-year graded schedule. Employee elective deferrals vest immediately in every plan without exception. All contributions to simplified employee pensions and savings incentive match plans likewise vest immediately. Top-heavy plans require accelerated vesting beyond these baselines. Employer contributions are the only ones following a schedule.

88. D — Filing within twenty-seven months of the end of the month of formation produces recognition retroactive to the date of formation. A later filing produces recognition only prospectively from the application date. That leaves a taxable gap covering the intervening period. The application remains valid; only its effective date shifts. A taxable gap covers the intervening period of operation.

89. B — Soil and water conservation expenditures are deductible currently rather than capitalized, but only for land used in farming. The expenditure must be consistent with an approved conservation plan before any deduction is allowed. The deduction is capped at twenty-five percent of gross farm income, with the excess carried forward indefinitely.

90. A — The plan is available to employers with no more than one hundred employees who maintain no other qualified plan. The employer must either match deferrals dollar for dollar up to three percent of compensation or contribute two percent nonelectively for every eligible employee. Both formulas are mandatory rather than discretionary.

91. C — The deduction cannot exceed aggregate taxable income from the active conduct of any trade or business. It can therefore never create or increase a loss for the taxpayer. Disallowed amounts carry forward indefinitely to later years. Bonus depreciation carries no comparable income limitation and can generate a loss. Bonus depreciation carries no comparable income limitation.

92. B — Schedule M-2 runs from the opening balance, adds net income per books and other increases, and subtracts distributions and other decreases. The closing figure must agree with the equity section of Schedule L. A mismatch signals an equity entry that bypassed the schedule entirely. For an S corporation it tracks distribution taxability instead.

93. D — Capital losses exceeding capital gains are excluded because they follow their own separate carryover regime. The computation also excludes the net operating loss deduction itself and the qualified business income deduction. Nonbusiness deductions are allowed only to the extent of nonbusiness income received during that year. Personal deductions cannot generate a business carryover.

94. B — Both conditions must be present: passive investment income exceeding twenty-five percent of gross receipts for three consecutive years, and accumulated earnings and profits carried over from C corporation years. A corporation that has always been an S corporation faces no exposure whatever its investment holdings. Three consecutive years above the threshold are also required.

95. C — The four hurdles operate in a fixed sequence, and each is tested against the amount that survived the previous one. Basis is tested first, then at-risk, then passive activity, then the excess business loss cap. The disallowed remainder becomes a net operating loss carryforward to the following year. A loss stopped at any hurdle never reaches the next one.

96. A — Life insurance proceeds are book income that is never taxable, so the difference never reverses and changes the effective rate borne. Bad debt allowances, accelerated depreciation, and warranty reserves all reverse in later periods. Those are temporary differences affecting only when tax is ultimately paid. Permanent differences change the effective rate borne overall.

97. A — The conformity requirement obliges a taxpayer electing the method for tax purposes to use it in reports to shareholders, partners, and creditors. The tax benefit cannot be claimed while higher earnings are shown to a lender. The election applies until the Service consents to a change of method. Lower of cost or market may not be combined with the method.

98. D — Nonrecourse financing carries no personal liability and is excluded from amounts at risk, though it does increase basis under the liability rules. This gap explains most cases where a taxpayer with apparently adequate basis cannot deduct a loss. Qualified nonrecourse real property financing is the narrow exception. It is available only to real property rather than equipment.

99. B — Losses reduce stock basis first and debt basis second, while restoration in a later profitable year runs the opposite way. A net increase rebuilds debt basis up to the amount previously reduced before any stock basis is restored. This protects the shareholder's loan ahead of the equity investment made. Suspended losses become deductible again as basis returns.

100. C — Tax-exempt income increases outside basis even though it is never taxed, which preserves the exemption when the interest is disposed of. Nondeductible noncapital expenses form the exact mirror image, reducing basis despite producing no deduction. Both rules ensure eventual disposition gain reflects economic rather than taxable results. Both rules ensure disposition gain reflects economic results.
